I've just got back from a trip to Paris. I stayed in a hotel (1) , which my friend recommended to me, in the city centre. It was really awful. First, it was next to the pubs in the city (2) , which were open all night. Lots of people (3) , who were all shouting and singing, were drunk.

The receptionist (4) , who was an old lady, was really unfriendly. My bedroom (5) , which was on the fifth floor, was really hot. There was a window in the room (6) , which was really dirty, but I couldn't open it!. I couldn't believe it!

What was really unbelievable was that they didn't clean the bedroom every day (7) , which is normal in most hotels, but just once a week. Can you believe it? There was an old TV (8) , which only had one channel, but it didn't work properly and you had to pay 10 euros (9) , which was very expensive, for using the Internet for just half an hour.

Yesterday I asked the manager of the travel agency (10) , who is very helpful, if she has any better hotels for my next trip. The travel agent (11) , whose computer system was broken when I booked the trip, looked for a new holiday on the new computer system. She offered me a trip to Munich (12) , which is a beautiful city in Germany, for only 100 euros. Now that's what I call a bargain!
