Non-Defining Relative Clauses 14

Complete the email message below using non-defining relative clauses.   Use the phrases from the note sheet below to help you.   You will need to add relative pronouns 'who', 'which' and 'whose', and commas where necessary.

I only bought yesterday	I have known for a long time
is one of the top design companies here	makes a change from my last job
company I work for	is only improving very slowly
hasn't been working very well for a long time	is lovely by the way is a nice name I think	is Pilar's brother
I hope you read today	sometimes can be long and boring

Hi Dad,

I'm sending you this message (1) , which I hope you read today, from a café near my hotel (2) , which is lovely by the way.   I'm using my new laptop (3) , which I only bought yesterday, but it doesn't have internet access yet.   It's a beautiful, sunny day here.   I'm waiting for my friend (4) , who I have known for a long time, to join me.   Her name is Pilar, (5) , which is a nice name I think, and she is from Spain.

Normally she sits next to me at work and she always makes the day (6) , which sometimes can be long and boring, go faster.   We aren't working today because of a problem with the air conditioning (7) , which hasn't been working very well for a long time.

The job is ok.   Everyone is very friendly (8) , which makes a change from my last job, so there is a good atmosphere at work.   My company (9) , which is one of the top design companies here, is designing a new sports centre at the moment – it's very high tech.   The only problem is my French (10) , which is only improving very slowly.   Pilar's brother (11) , whose company I work for, has lent me some books to try to improve.   Antonio (12) , who is Pilar's brother, is very nice too.   I think he is joining us too today.   Anyway, they are both waving at me now so I'd better go.

Take care,
Denise